

The 5th PRAGESTT students' conference on German language and literature

The 5th PRAGESTT students' conference on German language and literature will take place on March 20th and 21st at the Faculty of Arts, Charles University. Students of German from 10 European countries will present their research in German literature, linguistics, and language teaching. Everyone is cordially welcome to the conference and the accompanying cultural program. The conference will be held in German.

more details