

NISE Annual Gathering 2016: prestížní akci k výzkumu nacionalismu v Evropě spolupořádá Ústav českých dějin FF UK

The NISE Annual Gathering in 2016 takes place at the Charles University in Prague from 5 to 8 September 2016.

Hosts this year are the Institute of Czech History (from Monday 5 to Wednesday 7) and the Institute of Political Studies (on Thursday 8). The gathering is co-organised by the University of Antwerp (UA) as part of the ICA project.

Besides the annual meetings of the NISE constituting bodies, the gathering hosts two workshops, a comprehensive session on the state of play of the NISE database DIANE with the launch of its own website, and a set of presentations by NISE members of new projects, research and archival instruments, publications etc.

The workshop on Protagonists of National Movements is co-organised by the Centre de Recherche Bretonne et Celtique-CRBC.

The workshop on National Indifference forms part of Maarten Van Ginderachter's Nationalism from the Margins project (with NISE as one of the co-ordinators). Mark this is a closed workshop!

contact person: Radka Sustrova (sustrova@mua.cas.cz)

Non-NISE members are welcome, after prior registration, to attend all public sessions: the DIANE session, the members' meeting (with the presentations) and the Protagonists workshop.

Please, register via form here.

Protagonists of national movements: A preliminary workshop program

NISE: National movements & Intermediary Structures in Europe