

Official Statement of CUFA Management on the Project Sinopsis

Project Sinopsis, which provides information and commentary on affairs in contemporary China, is implemented by the non-profit association AcaMedia, z. ú. and has no legal relation to the Faculty of Arts, Charles University.

Several employees, students, and graduates of CUFA are, however, involved in the project. This way they contribute to the third role of the university where active and free participation in public discourse about current social and political questions also belongs.

The management of the Faculty of Arts, Charles University, supports the activities of their colleagues that are involved in the project Sinopsis and denies putting any form of pressure on them.
