

The National Library of the CR Makes Digital Library Temporarily Available to All Students

The deputies of the National Library of the CR and the copyright collecting society DILIA have agreed today to make the Digital Library of the NL temporarily (during the state of emergency) available to university students and lecturers.

206,000 digitalized books, magazines, and newspapers in total, approximately 59 million pages, can now read using the Kramerius on-line platform from anywhere.

To access the digitalized collection, click on the following link: <http://kramerius-vs.nkp.cz>. (For English, press the button in the right upper corner).
