

New Issue of Litteraria Pragensia: Performativity and Creativity in Modern Cultures

The latest issue of the academic journal Litteraria Pragensia: Studies in Literature and Culture has been published. The issue, edited by Martin Procházka (Department of Anglophone Literatures and Cultures), focuses on “Performativity and Creativity in Modern Cultures”, and features contributions by Andreas Mahler, Jeffrey A. Bell, Gergő Balogh, David Vichnar and Jean Bessière, Pavel Drábek, Russell Gilbert, Anna Wołosz-Sosnowska, and Mirka Horová.

The whole issue is available online in the open access mode. It is also the first one to be released via the new journal website.