Evaluate Courses of the Summer Semester 2023/24 by 2 June 2024

After a break caused by the December 2023 events, the regular student evaluations of educational activities are back. The anonymous electronic evaluation is open from 20 May to 2 June 2024. Provided feedback helps to improve the quality of everyone's studies.

BA and MA students evaluate courses each semester, always at the end of the course or after the course has ended. Evaluations provide important feedback to teachers, heads of departments and institutes, and the faculty management. Written comments are, therefore, particularly valuable. Students have the opportunity to leave feedback on individual courses and teachers and also to respond to questions common to all CU FA students.

The evaluation can be filled anonymously and electronically in a unique application. At the beginning of the evaluation, each learner receives an email with an access link, which leads directly into the application, where the enrolled courses in SIS should be listed. The courses can be evaluated all at once or be done in more parts — you can save the progress and return to it later.

This year, there is also a new evaluation app, which all students can install in their phones here. You can also evaluate via the web interface at evaluace.ff.cuni.cz by logging in with your CAS/SIS details. In the upper right corner, you can switch into English.

If you find an error in the course listings (e.g., wrong teacher, missing course, etc.), please report it directly in the application via the „Report an error" button. We will do our best to solve any problems promptly.

The results of the course evaluations, comments, and responses to the common questions will be published on the main website of CU FA in mid-June.
