The two-year MA programme in East European Studies at the universities of Munich and Regensburg will welcome its twentieth cohort in the winter semester of 2023/24. Applications are accepted until 15 June 2023.

The Elite Graduate Programme in East European Studies is a degree programme offered jointly by the universities of Munich (LMU) and Regensburg (UR). It is directed at excellent students with a first degree (usually BA), fluency in German and basic knowledge of at least one East European language.

The programme's goal is to convey interdisciplinary knowledge of East, East-Central and Southeastern Europe. In addition, valuable transferable skills are taught in a project course, a summer school in East Europe, an obligatory work placement related to East Europe, and through optional, exclusive soft skill seminars of the Elite Network of Bavaria. You can find further information about the programme on this website.

Universidade Federal Fluminense, Brazil – the Minor in Global Challenges with a focus on the topic of inequalities. The course is an interdisciplinary program that complements the student's major, and it is offered entirely in a foreign language (English, Spanish, and/or French). Classes in the course may be offered either online, on-site, or in a hybrid format, as allowed by the current sanitary conditions and according to each teacher's preference.

German language intensive classes – Heidelberger Pädagogium, a non-profit language institute.
