

On Liberal Education: The autopoietic function of universities

DAY 1 – Wednesday, 25th August

GTM+1 (Prague etc.)	EST/EDT (GTM-5)	AES
15:00	9:00	23:00	Jiří Přibáň (Cardiff University) Structural Coupling Within Legal Doctrine: On Legal Education and Practice
16:00	10:00	24:00	Saralyn McKinnon-Crowley (Georgja Institute of Technology) Neoliberalism and the Quantification of American Higher Education
17:00	11:00	01:00	Jones Irwin (Dublin City University) Whither the Situationist University After Late Capitalism?
18:00	12:00	02:00	Olga Lomová (Charles University) „Orientalistika“, area studies and social sciences: post-communist (con)fusions

DAY 2 – Thursday, 26th August

15:00	9:00	23:00	Rob Rieman (Nexus Institute) Some Reflections on Higher Education as the Origin of Higher Stupidity
16:00	10:00	24:00	Ivana Noble (Charles University) Universities as Places that Cultivate Hope: Relationship between Expertise, Education towards Human Maturity and Societal Responsibility
17:00	11:00	01:00	Milada Polišenská (Anglo-American University) Idealism and capitalism: two sides of the beginnings of private higher education in the Czech Republic
18:00	12:00	02:00	Péter Balázs (CEU) Universities under systemic changes, the way of CEU from Prague over Budapest to Vienna

DAY 3 – Friday, 27th August

15:00	9:00	23:00	Alexander Goerlach (Carnegie Council for Ethics in International Affairs) Meaning And Importance of (Academic) Education For Democracies and Free Societies Amid The Threats Posed by Authoritarianism
16:00	10:00	24:00	Jimmy Lewis-Martin (University of Wollongong) Universities as autonomously individuated systems
17:00	11:00	01:00	Jiří Šubrt (Charles University) The university system in the perspective of the system approach and functional analysis
18:00	12:00	02:00	Cláudio Alexandre S. Carvalho (University of Porto) The University and the New Problem(s) of Counsel

